Re: March/April Community Center Staff report

March and April are busy months at the Community Center, as they are popular months for events and activities before warmer weather liberates folks to the outdoors. The Nederland Seniors hosted another successful Pancake Breakfast for Frozen Dead Guy Days at the beginning of the month and about 100 people/per presentation came to view Ron Mitchell's vision for Nederland's future (First Street hotel proposal). Nederland Youth Hockey held their season wrap-up and award potluck, young dancers celebrated their spring recital and pot luck, and the Cub Scouts held their Pinewood Derby competition.

The Community Center will host the fifth 9Health Fair in this location on Saturday, April 13. Volunteer participation is strong and the Site Team is well-prepared for a successful event.

Participation from Fitness Place users continues to be strong. Folks have utilized the expanded Friday hours regularly. The Sunday expansion hours began April 6 and will continue every Sunday going forward, from 10am-4pm to the delight of dedicated fitness buffs. Efforts continue to recruit reliable volunteers and subs for the 6am-8am M-F expansion.

Notable additions to recreational activities include Hatha Yoga with Stacey on Wednesday nights in the Studio from 6:30-8p and the addition of Thursday night drop-in basketball.

Looking forward, Boulder County will host two meetings relevant to our mountain community. On April 25, Garry Sanfacon will host the Regional Mountain Trails master plan meeting and on Saturday, May 11, Boulder County forestry outreach coordinator Ryan Ludlow will host a Firewise workshop. The Community Center looks forward to once again hosting The Duhks on June 6, an internationally respected music group known for their active support for environmental causes. They are brought to us by Greg Ching as a fundraiser for The Backdoor Theater's new digital equipment. A silent auction for the BDT, as well as Wildbear Center for Nature Discovery, will accompany that event.
