Re: Staff report

Community Center operations are routine, which is very good news! Drop-in Basketball is experiencing increased numbers and considering a second night to accommodate all players. Public Works was able to complete the upper driveway repairs, and drainage issues from Forest Road down the hill through the east lot will be the next focus for repairs.

The Witches Ball was a successful first-time event, and the organizers hope to make it an annual occurrence. The Food Pantry is serving 200+ people per month, and the Clothing Closet has adjusted their hours to run concurrently in addition to their Wednesday and Saturday hours. Emergency Family Assistance Association (EFAA) will hold their Thanksgiving food distribution at the Community Center on Saturday, Nov. 17th. Sunday, Nov. 18th is the annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner at the Center from 12 to 3 p.m. The event committee is well-organized and prepared for the event.

The new tables and chairs have arrived! Eight new 8-foot and 6-foot tables have arrived, along with caddies and 60 new folding chairs for the Community Room. Thank you to the Community Center Foundation Board for helping with this long-needed purchase.

The final payment was received for the purchase of the excess kitchen equipment and the buyer moved it out of storage in the west wing last month. He reports that he will be able to refurbish and utilize almost all of it. I am not only glad to be rid of it but very pleased this all went to an organic farmer starting a farm-to-table operation.

The Community Center was also the recipient of a large quantity of useable items from the old Watershed School building, which has been sold. Many thanks to Public Works for the muscle power to make this happen.

Boulder County Human Resources has added the Fitness Place to their list of facilities given to their employees who participate in the county's wellness program. This gives mountain residents working for the county a local option for their workout needs.
